Proceedings of the Convention.

For the accommodation of the delegates who will leave on the special trains to-morrow, we shall publish an extra on Sunday morning, containing the full proceedings of the Convention. All who desire copies must leave their orders at our office to-day.

The Convention.

The Convention which will assemble this morning in the Capitol promises to be the largest in number—the ablest in representation of the various counties of the State—and the best in point of material—which has ever been held in Frankfort. We believe that every county will be represented; and although the number of delegates is limited to 67, the number of delegates will far exceed that amount. Last night the several Congressional district delegations held separate meetings, and elected each one vice president and two members for each of the important committees, viz: upon resolutions and upon State organization. In regard to the character of the resolutions which will be adopted, it is generally understood and agreed that the Cincinnati platform will be reaffirmed; the Direct Seat division mollified; and a general approval of the acts of the National Administration expressed in hearty terms. We think the Convention will also express itself in favor of the speedy acquisition of Cuba, in a special resolution upon that subject.

We offer no surmises as to the nominations. For the principal office the contest will be close, and no one at this time can certainly predict the result. The canvass for the various nominations is being conducted, at the time we go to press, in a brisk and spirited manner; but the very best thing prevails, and this state of things we confidently hope and believe will continue to the end. Our results we are fully satisfied—the ticket nominated to-day will carry Kentucky by 20,000 majority.

At the time we write a large portion of the Democracy assembled here are holding a sort of "love feast" in the Hall of Representatives, and are being entertained with "rejoicements" and "expiring" from leading members of the party from the different sections of the State. We regret having lost many of the good things said in the State house last night.

The Editorial Faculty.

We notice the arrival in the city of a large number of the Democratic editors, among them Col. Sims, like of the Covington Globe; Col. John H. Hainey and Wm. E. Hughes, of the Louisville Democrat; Col. R. T. Durrett, W. N. Haldeman, and Walter Overton, of the Louisville Courier; Robert McKey, Maysville Express; Thos. B. Monroe, Lexington Statesman; Col. R. S. Ford, Elizabethtown Democrat; Col. John C. Nolle, Paducah Herald; W. D. Gentry, Hopkinsville Press; E. A. Gibbons, Larrochish Transcriber; John G. Cadlock, Paris Flag; J. A. Bell, Georgetown Gazette; H. B. Fraiser, Bowling-green Standard; Edward F. Turner, Belpointe Democrat and George Biell, of the Cincinnati Leader.

HOPKINS COUNTY.—We regret very much that the proceedings of the meeting held in Hopkins county on the 21st of December have not been published in our paper. Through mistake they were misplaced, and we have not been able to get a copy of them. Hopkins county held a meeting in May last, and recommended Col. Wm. Bradley, of that county, for Governor. The meeting held last month, besides again putting Col. Bradley's name before the Democracy, also instructed her delegates to vote for Jno. S. Bryan, Esq., for Register. Hopkins county has nine votes.

—We are requested to say that Elder W. Y. Moore will preach in the Christian Church to-morrow, (Lord's day) at 11 o'clock, A. M. Subject—"The inductive method of reasoning applied to the scriptures, or the rationale of Christian Union." The subject is one of general interest, and from the reputation of the speaker, we hazard nothing in saying that it will be discussed in a manner commensurate with its importance.

Political Text Book.—Politicians, and others who wish to procure in convenient form a history of the most important political events which have taken place in our country, should subscribe for "The Political Text Book, or Encyclopedia," edited by M. W. Cluskey. It is published in the best style, and well arranged for reference. H. Whittingham is the agent, and will call on visitors to-day for the purpose of procuring subscribers.

The Democratic Vote of the North and West in 1855 and 1858.

The following table of official returns of the elections in 1856 and 1858, in the most important northern and western States, shows that the Democracy have received immense reinforcements to their ranks since 1856, and that thousands of men who voted against us have seen cause to change their views:

DEMOCRATIC. OPPOSITION.

Vote '58.	Vote '56.	Vote '58.	Vote '56.
26,267.	26,267.	106,252.	106,252.

7,062.	7,062.	—.	—.
68,733.	68,733.	—.	—.

The Democratic vote in the above States has increased 45,265 since 1856, while the Opposition vote has diminished 68,733.

List of Delegates.

On yesterday the delegates who had arrived were requested to report themselves at this office, in order that a printed list might be furnished this morning for the use of the Convention. In the hurry and confusion consequent upon the arrival of so many at once and a scramble for lodgings, it was not to be expected that all the delegates could report up to the time our paper went to press. We append the list of delegates for the sixty-one counties which did report:

DYSPEPSY.

AS IT IS NOW, to the statement of the Board of Health of New York, on the 10th of May, 56 persons out of 1100 daily, in one week, 143 days hence, succumbed to Dyspepsy. As it is well attested that Dyspepsy is the origin of the suffering of a large portion of the whole of consumption, and that it is the chief disease of the present times, and, indeed, for Dyspepsy, as science and experience have placed before them, and which have proved to be efficient in it; this character is "Dr. Williams' Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir," in corroborations of which, read the following testimonies.

Testimony of Mr. Edward H. Rowley, of the firm of Rowley, Ashburner & Co., 14 North W. 17th Street, for the efficacy of Williams' Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir.

PHILADELPHIA, October 29, 1842.

DR. JAMES WILLIAMS—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in recommending your Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir, to the cure of Dyspepsy. I have taken it much for this disease, and have no cause to regret it.

Yours, ever yours truly,

EDWARD H. ROWLEY.

Communication to Dr. R. P. Rose, Esq., from Mr. Rowley, Ashburner & Co.

It is with great satisfaction that I testify to the efficacy of Williams' Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir, which you so strongly recommended to me, and for which I heartily thank you; it has completely restored my health, which, I was, very poorly, indeed, left with the dyspepsy, and the symptoms of which I have, to a certainty, had entirely removed. It is, I sincerely trust, a safe and efficacious remedy, and I heartily recommend it to all persons suffering under Dyspepsy.

Very, respectfully, &c.,

DR. JAMES WILLIAMS—Dear Sir: Having suffered a long, ineffectual Dyspepsy, so as to have completely prostrated, I say, tried every means for relief without success, I was advised to use your Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir. I have taken it much for this disease, and it has completely restored my health, which I was, very poorly, indeed, left with the dyspepsy, and the symptoms of which I have, to a certainty, had entirely removed. It is, I sincerely trust, a safe and efficacious remedy, and I heartily recommend it to all persons suffering under Dyspepsy.

Very, respectfully, &c.,

FRANKLIN LYKE,

London, Oct. 18, 1842.

DR. JAMES WILLIAMS—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in recommending your Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir, which I have, to a certainty, had entirely removed. It is, I sincerely trust, a safe and efficacious remedy, and I heartily recommend it to all persons suffering under Dyspepsy.

Very, respectfully, &c.,
